Were you wounded?

We were hit by flak over the target and had to drop out of formation. ~~Over Belgium one engine was about to burst into flame and another was about to go out.~~ A lot of fighters attacked us, and we shot down three. Five of the sergeants bailed out; then I followed the engineer out the nose. ~~I saw one man hit the ground about a kilometer from me; I thought that it was the bombardier.~~ I landed near a farmhouse, picked up my parachute, and ran to the woods. My chute hung up on a barbed wire fence, so I left it there. It could not be seen with all the snow around.

BAILED OUT

I went through the woods some distance, came to a metal telegraph pole with a German name on it, and thought that I was in Germany. I took out my compass from the escape kit and started SW through the woods. I came to a road and saw a civilian walking toward me. I pretended to be a naturalist just looking the trees over--- not too good a pretense since I was still in flying clothes---and the man ^{paid} ~~paid~~ no attention to me.

WALKED

I walked on through the fields and woods, saw a small town, and was unable to identify it on my escape map. I could see no Germans in the town, so I thought that I would go in and look for some road signs. In the town I heard some people approaching me and hid behind the corner of a house. Three or four people on bicycles passed. ^{While} ~~When~~ I was moving away four people came up ~~suddenly~~ from the other direction. They said something to me and I nodded in reply. They walked on.

INTO TOWN

There was snow on the ground. I could hear people in the house moving dishes and sounding warm and comfortable. I thought that I would not sleep out that night and went to ask them whether I could sleep in their barn. I was taken in and fed. My host took a geography book and showed me where I was.

HELPED

While I was sitting there to see what happened another man came in. After he discovered who I was he gave me civilian clothes. Soon another man came in; he did not seem convinced that I was an American aviator. After a great deal of questioning and talking he finally seemed satisfied, and _____

Appendix B

1. The following information has been obtained from an officer who evaded capture in enemy occupied territory.
2. Further circulation of this information may be made, but in that case it is important not to divulge any details about the source.

1944

Statement of information covering the period from 20 February to 28 May

- a. One of informant's helpers claimed to have gone with another man to the Belgian coast and to have destroyed a radar installation there. It was said to be in two sections, one out in the water and the other on land. Source reported that the installation was designed to indicate the number and tonnage of approaching ships.

- b. In April informant saw FW 190's flying from an airfield near MERU.
- c. In April he saw ME and FW's with belly tanks taking off from an airfield at CEEIL.
- d. In April informant saw that railway yards at AMIENS, CREIL, and the Gare du Nord (Paris) had been well hit.
- e. The Germans are gradually repairing the Renault works along the Seine.
- f. Frenchmen complained about an RAF raid which had some factory in or near Paris as its target, claiming that everything had been hit but the factory. There were also complaints of a couple of instances in which Americans had missed the target.
- g. At BORDEAUX there seemed to be an FW assembly plant, to judge from the FW parts which informant saw on railway cars.

Appendix D

1. I carried an aid box from which I used only the compass and map. I did not need any other contents because I received help the first day.
2. I carried a ¹red purse. I had to exchange the French money for Belgian money.
3. I carried six passport-size photographs, which I used.
4. I was lectured at base on evasion and escape. The lectures were valuable.
5. Suggestion: Try and get--or have---good shoes for crossing the mountains. DO NOT USE SANDALS.
Try to keep one map for yourself in case you should have to go alone---a map of the French and Spanish border.

Date, time and approximate location of plane crash or landing.

Feb 29, 1944, 15:15 - 8 K.M. Northeast of Limont Belgium

Nature and extent of damage to plane when source bailed out.

Was it on fire, etc? NO. 2 engine dead, No. 4 engine pulling half power, No. 1 engine threatening fire therefore cut off, No. 3 engine nearly finished.

At approximately what altitude did source bail out?

8000'

Were any of the crew injured or killed before the plane crashed?

NO

What members of the crew bailed out? Did their parachutes open?

All crew members bailed out. All opened.

Did the plane explode on striking the ground?

I don't know - thick clouds prevented visual contact.

Did source see any other members of the crew dead or alive after reaching the ground?

Yes, one, the bombardier; he was alive.

Did he receive any information from others as to whether any other members of the crew were dead or alive? If so give detailed furnished by his informant and whether the other crew members were identified by name or otherwise.

No others were mentioned by name by the organization. They merely said one was captured because of broken ankle and that the others escaped.

Did source examine the wreckage of the plane? If so, what was its conditions?

NO.

If the plane crashed in water how far was the plane from land and what means was source rescued and what life rafts, wreckage, etc., remained on the surface that would have assisted other personnel to keep afloat.

What is source's opinion as to the fate of the other crew members and his reason for his opinion?

I believe the others are safe with an organization. My organization seemed to know they were safe but had not secured any names.

The Commander-in-Chief, Southwest Pacific Area;
The Commanding Generals,
Theaters of Operations;
Defense Commands;
Departments;
Base Commands;
The Commanding Officers,
Base Commands;
Director, Bureau of Public Relations.

1. Publication or communication to any unauthorized persons of experiences of escape or evasion from enemy-occupied territory, internment in a neutral country, or release from internment not only furnishes useful information to the enemy but also jeopardizes future escapes, evasions and releases.
2. Personnel will not, unless authorized by the Assistant Chief of Staff, G-2, War Department General Staff, publish in any form whatever or communicate either directly, or indirectly, to the press, radio or an unauthorized person any account of escape or evasion of capture from enemy or enemy-occupied territory, or internment in a neutral country either before or after repatriation. They will be held strictly responsible for all statements contained in communications to friends which may subsequently be published in the press or otherwise.
3. Evaders, escapees, or internees shall not be interrogated on the circumstances of their experiences in escape, evasion or internment except by the agency designated by the Assistant Chief of Staff, G-2, War Department General Staff, or the corresponding organization in overseas theaters of operations. In allied or neutral countries, American Military Attaches are authorized to interrogate on escape, evasion and internment matters.
4. Should the services of escaped prisoners of war, evaders, or internees be deemed necessary for lecturing and briefing, such services will be under the direct supervision of the agency designated by the Assistant Chief of Staff, G-2, War Department General Staff, or the corresponding organization in overseas theaters of operations.
